Uzbekistan Energy Week (UEW) is the largest industry platform in Central Asia, bringing together each year in Tashkent representatives of government authorities, leading energy and service companies, international financial institutions, investors, technology providers, and industry experts.

UEW combines:

-  comprehensive business programme
-  international conferences
-  specialised exhibitions
-  a platform for forging new partnerships and concluding strategic agreements

The event addresses the key priorities shaping the future of the fuel and energy sector

-  Modernisation of the energy industry;
-  Enhancing the efficiency of hydrocarbon exploration, appraisal;
-  Production and processing;
-  The development of the power sector and renewable energy;
-  Enewable energy, digital transformation;
-  The deployment of advanced technologies;
-  Strengthening energy security;
-  Expanding regional cooperation.

For Uzbekistan, UEW serves as an important platform for showcasing the country's investment potential, presenting large-scale reforms and flagship projects across the energy sector, strengthening international dialogue, and fostering new strategic partnerships.

For international participants, the forum provides a gateway to one of the region's fastest-growing energy markets and creates opportunities to develop joint projects that will shape the future of Central Asia's energy landscape.
