Why are production technologies at UzFood 2027 more relevant than ever?

Uzbekistan's food industry is undergoing one of the most significant transformations in its history. Large-scale investment in modern production facilities, adoption of internationally recognised food safety standards, and the country's ambitious goal of increasing food exports to USD 10 billion are driving the strong demand for advanced processing technologies, manufacturing equipment, packaging solutions and production automation.

Two industries. One powerful platform.

UzFood and O'ZuPACK bring together the entire food production value chain — from raw materials and processing technologies to packaging and finished products
